Out with the old . . . . . In with the New!

In the last several years, there have been many changes to the schools that fed Marshall in the West Park neighborhood. Some schools are no longer junior highs. They, along with the regular elementary schools, service children in grades PreK-8. Several have closed and been torn down, others have been sold to charter schools, churches, or businesses.

*Riverside Elementary on Montrose was the first of the West Park schools to be rebuilt. Originally it was built in 1936 with seven classrooms and a playroom. An addition of six rooms on the first floor opened in 1945 and in 1947, three classrooms and a multipurpose room were added to the second floor. In 1952, two more rooms were added. In 1964 several rooms were renovated and an addition made to the gym. The building closed in 2004 and was razed. The staff and student body were sent to Nathaniel Hawthorne (1917), which became the 'swing school' (for Riverside, RG Jones, and now Almira) until the new building on the original site opened in Sept 2006 for grades K-8. The school has gifted programs and test scores are among the highest in the district. There are over 520 students enrolled there today.

Artemus Ward was built in the late 1940's. In 1952, a portable classroom was added and then in 1957, nine additional rooms were built. (A circular library was built some time in the 1960's.) By 2005, part of the roof collapsed and the building was condemned. Students were transferred to Halle, a closed building at the time, until decisions could be made on the future of AW. The building was razed in October 2006 and in January 2009, the new Artemus Ward opened to students in grades PreK-8. Currently they are pushing capacity with 506 students.

Robinson G. Jones opened in 1951 with five classrooms, a multipurpose room and a kindergarten. In 1954, able to attend our September 2009 reunion. Again, we want to thank the many classmates for their generous donations, which helped to make our reunion such a success, and especially to Bob Kerber and Ralph Theile. We also had former teachers in attendance. We know of 17 classmates who were deceased, and there were only 15 that we were unable to locate. It appeared that everyone who attended seemed to appreciate the friendship and the social time together. So our committee decided that since we are in our "50's", it would be a good idea to have an annual celebration.

Fond Memories

Submitted by Lois (Bassett) Summerlin 6/57

Marjorie (Barker) Bassett 6/26 celebrated her 101st birthday last August 13th 2009. Mom is currently healthy and happy living in a nursing home near me.

Marjorie was born in Cleveland on Conover Street. When she was 2, she moved to 3342 W. 126th St. in West Park, (now Cleveland). This home was built by her parents John and Ethel Barker.

Mom attended elementary school at Lennox School on Triskett Rd. and junior high at Jefferson Park (Nathaniel Hawthorn). In Sept of 1922 she entered West Park Lincoln High School on W 152nd. The name was changed to John Marshall in 1923 when West Park became a part of Cleveland. Her older brother Alfred Barker, and two younger sisters Doris and Evelyn Barker, also attended and graduated from John Marshall

In her senior year she was the secretary of her class and clerk of the student court. The class play was held on May 28th, 1926. The Junior/Senior Prom was held on June 11th at the Westlake Hotel, Commencement was June 15th and the Alumni Dance, honoring the 1926 Seniors, was held on June 17th 1926.

Mom's favorite class was Shorthand taught by Miss Zelma Bundy. Miss Bundy also taught my aunts, my sister and I, Charlotte and Lois Bassett. Marj's best friends were Pearl Baldi, Florence Barnes, Ruth Diehl, Elsie Hanner, Bernice Kolb and Ruth Regan.

After graduation she worked downtown for Schuemann Jones for about a year and then married Howard Bassett of Rockport OH on June 26, 1927. After one or two years of marriage they moved back to the family home on W. 126th St. She and dad raised 2 boys and 2 girls in this lovely home. In 1958 they built a home in Strongsville. My father passed away in 1985.

Mom loved to paint beautiful scenery, collected rocks and minerals and enjoyed lapidary work, making and selling beautiful jewelry. She was also an active member of the Strongsville Senior Center until she moved to Ravenna in 2002.

Mom wrote many lovely poems for the Interpreter.

Poems by

Marjorie (Barker) Bassett

November 1924 - Football Days

Those were the days when our hearts were gayest:
Those were the games that were fought
the bravest:
Thru thick or thin, we were sure to win
For our boys were the kind that never gave in.

Nov 1925 -Thanksgiving Day

The traveling bags are being packed,
The college youth is on his way,
The boys and girls are coming home.
To celebrate Thanksgiving Day.
Some think it's just a day to feast,
A day when all will have their fill;
But really, folks, it's set aside
For giving thanks and all good will.

January 1926 - Kum Backs

No matter how long I prepare for a test,
It never does look as if it's my best.
Sometimes it just seems that my head is too thick,
I can't read a thing and then make it stick.

It has to be studied through and through.
Than if it doesn't stay, what will I do?

There is History and English,
there is Shorthand and Math,
They have to be studied to keep teachers from wrath.

But, when we don't answer,
then comes our disgrace:
It means a large zero
in a square little place.

the multipurpose room was converted to classrooms. Eight new classrooms and a gym/assembly room were added as well. In 2006, R. G. Jones was closed and students were reassigned to Nathaniel Hawthorne until the new building could be completed. Staff and students entered the new building at the end of January 2009. Currently there are 380 students with 2 classes of each grade (1 each of 5th & 6th), 2 each of special ed. and preschool special ed. and 1 regular ed. preschool. They have a computer lab and a state of the art library. Recently they received a grant for Elmos, digital cameras and Smartboards.

James A. Garfield was built in 1922-23. By 1940 ten rooms were added and in 1948 a portable unit of two classrooms was brought to the site on the south end of the parking lot. In 1953 four classrooms were added, as well as four more in 1962. The portables were removed in 1962. Garfield closed its doors in June of 2005. The students were reassigned to other buildings and in 2006, the building was demolished. In August 2009, Garfield opened its doors again to a Major Work, regular ed. and a preschool program. At this time there are about 400 students enrolled.

Ascension, Annunciation and St. Patrick's Schools merged to form West Park Catholic Academy at the location of the former St. Patrick's school. They opened in August, 2008. St. Mel's School closed last year and another program is housed there today.

The West Park Lutheran School, with various grades housed at Bethany, Puritas, Holy Cross, and then Mt. Calvary, has been in existence for 29 years. Currently the program operates at Holy Cross and Mt. Calvary.

Clara Westropp (1967) and Newton D Baker (1955) are no longer junior highs, but house students from K-8. Baker focuses as a School of the Arts, with vocal and instrumental music, drama, and visual arts for the elementary/middle grades. Valleyview (1949) is the Boys Leadership Academy and Douglas MacArthur (1967) is the Girls Leadership Academy on the west side. These 2 schools currently have about 150, K-4th grade students, and attend school an extra hour/day and an extra two weeks a year. At VV, additional focus is on the boys' learning styles (visual, tactile, kinesthetic), At DM there is a focus on etiquette and both address responsible community service and empowering leadership. McKinley (1922) still serves the W 125th St. area with 300 K-8 students. Puritas (currently redeveloped businesses), Longmead (Longmead Villages housing development), and Verda Brobst (airport expansion and car rental) were torn down long ago. George Washington has had many lives, but is currently Westpark Community School for both elementary and middle school students. Tom L Johnson is now listed as a temple/synagogue, Soka Gakkai International-USA.

high. Their student body has changed over the years, from grades 7-9 through the 80's & 90's to a K-8 school in the early 2000's. Change occurred again with lower grades being eliminated and for the past three years, Shuler has operated as a comprehensive high school currently servicing 485 students in grades 9-12. It does have some sports and music programs and competitions occur intra-district, between the other 3 'small' high schools in the district —School of the Arts, MLK, and Success Tech. There are also several students attending CCC simultaneously and earning credits toward their Associate's degree.

John Marshall has had its changes over the years as well. Physically, the building had additions in the early 60's (several classrooms, shop rooms, girls' gym, band and choir rooms, little theater, and the 3rd floor study hall). In '69 construction had begun on the new gyms and pool with parking available below. When construction was done, classrooms were shifted—the library was moved to what had been called the new girls' gym, the old girls' gym ended up being a shop room for several years, the boys' gym and the wrestling room were also converted to shop rooms for a while. The original library became guidance counselor offices. In later years, several of the larger rooms, i.e. Band and choir, were renovated and divided in to smaller classrooms to work with Special Ed. students, but have recently been converted back. The Oasis now serves as a teacher resource room. Part of the boys' gym and athletic director offices were eliminated and a new 'senior' cafeteria was created on the first floor.

From 1932 to the late 50's, the school educated 7th-12th grade students. With Baker and Shuler being built as junior highs, JMH then had a student body in grades 10—12. In the early 70's there were over 3,000 students in the building and graduating classes had about a 1,000 by the mid 70's. Since the early 80's, enrollment had dropped drastically. Enrollment is about 1700 with the student body consisting of 9th—12th graders; 500 are 9th grade, fewer in 10th and 11th, and about 300 in 12th. Even with structural and several program changes over the years, the school is considered over crowded. Currently there are five Assistant Principals, 2 for 9th grade and one each for 10th - 12th, with 140 faculty and staff members. Marshall is considered a comprehensive high school.

The Cleveland Municipal School District, as of a few years ago, had Marshall slated for rebuilding as part of a revitalization program (hence all the rebuilt schools throughout the city). JMH was to have been rebuilt on the football field, then staff and students were to move in to the new building, with the original then being torn down. However, we believe those plans are presently on hold. Recently the District announced a transformation plan, mainly due to lower enrollment and poor performance at several schools throughout the district (not specifically at Marshall though). Marshall will be

A Day in the Life

Back to the depths of the far corners of the mind or another recall about a 1938 vintage JMHS neighborhood.

By Bob Whittier, 6/38

After reading and enjoying Bob Gratz' inspired bit o' nostalgia about his old W 150th St. neighborhood, I should have left well enough alone! But NO! I always did have the imprudent capacity to tread where even fools should know better. So, I really have to follow Bob's class act by telling you about my Kamm's Corners area of those same days.

I am writing this from my safe vantage point some 3000 miles away in San Diego. In the 1930's our neighborhood (West 162nd St) in particular, was 'blessed' with seemingly countless teenagers. If you draw a 1/2 mile radius around the Kamm's Corner's area (Lorain Ave. And Rocky River Drive), you will enclose my little 1930's corner of the world. Here we teenagers had our own not so little, but quite informal social, recreational, and athletic society. All it took for one to be a member was to venture to the backend and focal point of the George Washington School campus, to the old grandstand,. This whole area covered a large 20-30 acre site that earlier had been a racetrack. Now in the 1930's, besides serving as the school playground, it provided ample facilities for our own summer vacation recreation including tennis courts, (sans nets) unless we brought our own, baseball and softball diamonds, exercise equipment, the old JMHS 1/2 mile running track and football field—all complementing the extremely functional grandstand, itself, from which point all daily activity was planned and mostly right on the spot.

There were an unlisted total of 100 to 200 or more non-card carrying but active quasi-members, mostly teenage boys. In the summertime, all day, you might find 20 to 30 of us coming and going and actively participating in a wide variety of youth type crazes, from yo-yo and tops contests to cards and other table games, to baseball and tennis, etc. All this with no type of adult supervision or organization, whatsoever.

The most usual frequenters were those of us living on the adjoining streets such as W 159th to W 165th, and Lucille, Oxford, West Park Avenues, etc. Some of my friends' names I remember, mostly from the Our Lady of Angels Church, include Bill Florence, Carls Wiemels and Darmstadt, Al Reasin, Bill Carlisle, Fran Gallagher, Clarence Ursem, George Eppley, Jim and John Carey, Jon Kundtz, Norm Carmel, Fritz and Bob Stroh, John Hoftzyer, Keith Munroe, and Dick Gerding, to name only a few.

Here's how a page in my 'might have' diary might have read:

July 15, 1937

Today Dick Gerding and I left our W 162nd St. home for the 'club' at about 10:30 am. Within 10 minutes after arriving at the grandstand, about 5 of us started a hot game of 'knife' baseball. After completing a very informal round robin play-off, about 11:15, we wandered over to the tennis courts and played a few sets of doubles joining a group who had already been playing. Luckily somebody remembered to bring a net.

By 12:30 we were ready for lunch. Dick and I went home, some ate right there, and others who did not go home, seemed to ignore the lunch break.

Back by 1:30, we immediately became immersed in a fast game of Monopoly, while others in groups of 5 or so played all types of card or table games, including some poker deals. Most of the games were quite typically family learned, but there were always some groups who played 'on the spot'-created simple or else somewhat kinky and maybe lesser approved types of these card or table games.

By 3:30, restless time set in, so we went over to work out on the exercise ladder, parallel bars, and other body builders. After 'physical fitness' time, we strolled over to the Kamm's Dairy Dell for ice cream. Chuck Neubauer, a 1936 JMHS Grad, was on duty and served us his usual super dippers.

Then back to the 'club' for a prescheduled baseball game between our own W 162nd St. Hot Shots and the OLA De Paduas. Gus Freitas and Eddie Acklin pitching against our Dick Gerding, had us beaten until we pulled the game out in the ninth, 5 to 4. Other games scheduled by our team might include teams from Poor Clare field on RR Dr., Regnatz, field on Warren Rd, Hardwood Products on Triskett, St Patrick's on Puritas and a Lakewood Hts. Blvd. team.

After the game, most of us took a meal break at home and then dashed back to the grandstand, now about 7 pm, where we were ready for some real socializing. Telling or listening to jokes and long stories or simply dialoging in some teenage talk, and of course bragging about our exploits with some mysterious young lady helped complete a pleasant end to another long summer day.

Some other interesting unique added highlights of a typical day included a daily visit by 1 or 2 more older retired or non-working men, maybe in their 50's or 60's. Most memorable of these more mature gentlemen was Mike Moran, the jolliest, kindest, most supportive person I knew. If Mike had needed a job description for his 'membership' it might have read—Will provide a soothing, entertaining, and moderating influence and will be available just to listen and accept all of the teenagers' problems. Mike's favorite 2 kids were Dick and Bob. Then there was Mary McMahon, a burly woman in her 30's or 40's, who might just as well have arrived from a logging camp in Alaska! Actually, Mary had worked as a service station attendant, a coal truck driver, and a bartender, to name only a few of her occupations. Mary usually mingled with us around the premises and also proved herself as a competent coach and manager of our various ball teams. I never remember her actually playing, but I do remember she was well accepted by all.

Please do not let me mislead you. While we had great fun and games here at our hangout, we were in no way lacking the usual teenage hang-ups, as many I am sure, as any other similar group of that era. We displayed foolishness, disagreements, arguments, and all the usual syndromes of social deviance the same as any teens. But with no adult supervision, as mentioned earlier, I think we had a healthy survival rate with little or no confrontations. I am sure our parents kept a concerned, though somewhat distant eye on us, as we pretty well solved our own problems and in one way or another watched out for each other.

May I offer you all, classmates and the other old grandstand gang, my best wishes. This 'club' had its own unique style. I am sure each of you can come up with your version of this.

Sports Celebration

On May 1, 2009, the JMH Hall of Fame sponsored a Sports Celebration honoring the 1950's and 1960's sports teams. It was held at St. Mary's on Warren Road. Over 200 hundred attended the event, several traveling from as far away as Texas, Maryland, and Florida. One of the memorable moments was the gathering of the past faculty and coaches who were in attendance for the evening. Below are some of the pictures at the event.

2010 Hall of Fame Inductees

Sally Caskey, 6/53

At JMH, Sally's eyes were opened to the world of sports. She was influenced by Mrs. Rippon's teaching ethics and along with her love of sports participation, she wanted to follow in her path. Sally majored in Phys. Ed. and Math at Bowling Green State University. She began her teaching career at Rhodes, and while there, she earned her Masters at WRU. Her cheerleaders won the City Championship held at the Senate Championship Game. She then chaired the girls PE department at West Tech, at that time the biggest school in Ohio. She started the Warriorettes, the Tech drill team. After 7 yrs in CPS, she moved to CWRU as coordinator of the Phys Ed department. She taught there for 26 years. While there, she qualified for the Olympic Trials in Archery. In 1984, she was named the "National Archery Coach of the Year." The West Tech Hall of Fame inducted her in 1997 as an honored Faculty member.

Pete DeLuca, 6/73 , Deceased

As a lettered Varsity Wrestler for all 3 years, Pete lost only 1 match. He was the 1971 Sectional Champ, the 1972 and 1973 Senate Champ, and in 1973 was 2nd in the State. Along with the 3 letters in wrestling, he lettered twice each in football and baseball. As a student, he served as the Editorial Cartoonist for the Interpreter. At graduation, he received the prestigious Bud Millsom award, which honored the most outstanding senior. Pete attended KSU studying art and music for two years, but his life took a different path. He became involved in helping those less fortunate—the elderly, the homeless and those mentally challenged. He worked at St. Malachi's for several years but then accepted a job at a group home in Millersburg, servicing veterans from Vietnam. He captained a team of these Veterans for 15 years, those who were disabled and mentally challenged.

Robert Ebert, 6/61

While attending JMH, Robert was actively involved in choir, and the marching and concert bands. He then attended Baldwin Wallace and received his BA in 1965, his MA at Western Reserve University in 1967 and a PHD in Economics from Case Western Reserve University in 1974. He is currently the holder of the Buckhorn Chair in Economics at BW. He also acts as a Trustee & Vice Chair of the Board at Fairview/Lutheran Hospitals. He has authored three books and several professional articles, most notably on the international and domestic motor vehicle industry and the pipe organ industry.

Donald Friedl, 6/50

As a student, Donald served as Editor of the Vanguard, an officer in Student Council and Drama Club, and as a member of the NHS and Key Club. To pursue his education, he attended Tulane, receiving his BA in History with an English minor in 1954. Continuing on at Columbia, he was a McKinsey scholar and received his MBA in 1958. He was named the New England Entrepreneur of the Year in 1994 and 1995. Mr. Friedl has worn many hats. He has served as Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of All Seasons Services, Inc.; Directors of Classic Foods, Inc. and Investors Financial Services, Inc (NASDAQ). Currently he serves as Director of Marical, Inc., a marine biotechnology company and Golden Aspen Technologies Corp., which provides Internet security services. He also acts as an advisor with several other companies.

Bruce James, 6/60

Bruce attended and graduated in 1964. from Rochester Institute of Technology School of Printing Management and Sciences. He was the founder of more than a dozen businesses, including Uniplan Corp., Electrographic Corp., Advanced Electronic Corp., and Barclay Law Publishers. In 1993, he 'retired' and moved from San Francisco to Lake Tahoe, NV to pursue community service and support technological innovation. President Bush named Bruce as the head of the Government Printing Office in 2002, where he planned to bring that office into the age of digital publishing. Having left the GPO in 2006, he was then appointed Chairman of the Sage Commission by Nevada's Governor, to overhaul and streamline state government. He is Board Chairman-Emeritus at RIT, his alma mater and the nation's largest private university.

Al "Bud" Millsom, FAC, Deceased

"Bud" received his degree from the University of Illinois in 1922. He began his coaching career at Newman HS in Illinois. For 3 seasons, his football teams won the Okaw Valley championships. He then moved on to Bellvue, OH for a year before coming to JMH in 1929. He spent 25 years coaching at JMH with his teams winning 6 titles in Basketball, 3 in Football, 2 in Indoor/Outdoor Track, 3 in Wrestling and 3 in the Decathlon. The Millsom Award, named in Bud's honor, has been presented to the most outstanding seniors throughout the years.

Kenneth David Nichols (Major General) 6/24 Deceased

He graduated from JMH at age 15 and later attended West Point, graduating 5th in his class in 1929. In 1942, he was pulled from a combat unit to work on the development of the atomic bomb. He became a Civil Engineer, earning bachelor's and master's degrees at Cornell and later a doctoral degree from the U. of Iowa in hydraulic engineering. He served as an important figure in the development of the Guided Missile Technology. As the District Engineer on the Manhattan Project, he reported directly to General Leslie R Groves, the commanding General. He later succeeded Groves as Head of the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project and was a member of the Corps of Engineers for 28 years. Kenneth also served as the general manager of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Ethel Rippon-Rowe, FAC

Mrs. Rippon has been an inspiration to many during her years as an educator. In 1941, Mrs. Rippon received her BA in Health, Phys Ed and Recreation from Kent State. An MA in Education was received from Western Reserve University in 1954. She taught Phys Ed at West High, 41-42, 45-49 and John Marshall from 49-63. From 69-83, she was the first Phys Ed teacher at a grade school in

July 4, 2009 Kamm's Corners. By Joy Brashwitz

We had a great contingent at the July 4th Parade at Kamm's Corners last year. We were preceded by the Alumni banner and a great float made by Don and Maria (DeLuca) McKee '74. Thanks to them for their donation of materials, hard work and time. Don's a special West Tech grad who volunteered to build the float for us. This is the first float we've had. Many of the DeLuca family members participated in the parade, including the children Emerson, Christopher, Joe, Baba, Monterra, Ronell and Giana. Following the float were the cars including two beautiful classic cars. Other regular participants are 7 trustees, and Scott Ferrell '76, Gerry Valaitis '01, Sue Nagy

'71, Angelo Costanzo '56, Anna (DeLuca) Lake '83, Joe DeLuca '76, and Ted Solarz '44. We would like to add your name to this list this year. All Alumni are invited to attend and march with us as well as faculty and current students. We would love to have the school band, high step-pers and cheerleaders join us.

We meet in the parking lot at Kamm's shopping center. There is a table in front of Gene's Place where you can find out where we are positioned. We meet between 8:30 and 9:00 AM. The parade starts about 9:30 and lasts until 11:00 AM or so, depending on the number of participants in it each year. This is a great way to celebrate the birth of our country.

Join us Saturday, July 3, 2010!

School Sports News By Andy Mathews

The Girl's Volleyball team is on a roll! They were the 2008 Senate Champions last year and defeated Lincoln West again to receive the 2009 Championship Title. Excellent!

The football team had a season record of 7-3, but was able to play in the 2009 Senate Championship game. Unfortunately they lost to JFK, 26-8. Maybe next year! Congratulations also to the Girl's Swim Team for winning the Senate Championship—Boy's Swim Team came in second.

After 8 years at Rhodes, Coach Dave Chollet returned to JMH to lead the Girls Basketball team to their First Senate Championship since 1978. At time of press, the girls were participating in post season tournaments.

Faculty Oktoberfest September 2009

By Joyce Murphy

On Thursday, September 24, 2009, sixty-seven retired JMH teachers & spouses met for their annual Oktoberfest at Albion Woods in the Metroparks. Kielbasa, Paul Johanni's German potato salad, Bill Brashwitz's sauerkraut, and Eleanore Bauer's nut rolls were once again appreciated by all the attendees.

Faculty members enjoyed a surprise visit from Truman Fields, who came from Kentucky to visit with all of us. A fabulous rendition of 'Chicago Town' was led by Dave Richards. It was a fun evening for all who attended.

Pine Needle Basket Artist By Joy Brashwitz

Many of you may be aware that one of our Faculty Alumni, Paul Johanni, is a talented Basket Making Artist. Paul's son Eric is in Grad School at the University of Syracuse in the Fine Arts program. While Eric was taking a fibers course as part of his studies, he took several of his Father's Pine Needle Baskets to class to show his professor the use of different fibers and stitchery. The Professor was so impressed that she asked Eric if there was any chance that his Dad would consider coming to Syracuse to share his craft.

The results were that on November 18, 2009, Paul was back in the class room once again giving a four hour presentation and a hands on class in basket making. He also took at least fifty samples of his work for the students to examine. It was a fun and exciting evening with 30 students, professors, and friends attending. Several of the art students offered input of their own and some came away with a finished piece while others were already incorporating new materials and styles into their own artistry. As Paul always says, "The seeds had been planted". No one wanted to leave so the four hour class ran quite late. Several members of the class approached Paul after the presentation and told him it was the most interesting class they had ever attended and the Art Professors, who also took part in the class, asked him if he would consider coming back for another presentation next year. Needless to say, the evening was a rousing success.

If you are interested in Paul's work or in Pine Needle Basket Making, his baskets will be on display in the showcase at the Westlake Porter Public Library for the entire month of April 2010.

Remembering the 40's in the Heart of Appalachia By Ralph Pffingsten

Truman Fields came to Marshall as an Industrial Arts teacher in 1980. He had already served over 20 years in the Cleveland System. He retired from JMH in 1989 and shortly afterwards returned, with his wife, to his native Kentucky. He had always been an accomplished tennis player and was the coach of the Lawyers tennis team when he was still teaching at Clara Westropp. He was also the Girls volleyball coach from 1986-88. He was as popular with his colleagues as he was with his teams and students.

Upon his return to Kentucky, he did something that I have heard many teachers say but never do. "I'm going to write a book."—he did. He had grown up in one of the poorest areas of the country, Hazard County, Kentucky, the absolute heart of Appalachia. The book covers only about 8-10 years of his youth and it was written as sort of a memento for his family. It is in part hysterical, historical and poignant. The book has 332 pages and once begun is difficult to put down. Even if you never knew him, it is a good read. The chapter entitled Strip Mining Comes to Big Creek won the Plattner Award for Berea College's Appalachian Heritage Magazine and the chapter on

2009 Nite Out

Reunion Committees:

Please send us your class list with changes and corrections highlighted. If an alumnus has passed away, please supply a copy of the obituary and date of death if at all possible. Don't forget to send us a group picture or two and a short paragraph about how your event went so that we might include that info in next year's newsletter!

Send reunion updates to:
reunions@jmhalumni.com

Class lists, names and addresses are only given to recognized Reunion Committees. The Alumni Association Tax ID and our US Post Office Bulk Mail Permit CANNOT be used by Reunion Committees.

We act as the clearing house for your reunion committees. Many times in the 80's and 90's we did not receive class lists from the school, so we do rely on you to submit your classmates names and addresses. Since we mail yearly, we can keep the list somewhat up to date—There are always going to be changes and lost individuals. It is to your benefit for us to work together.

Mountain Day won first place in the Louisville Senior Writers contest. There is even an index of 100 hillbilly terms translated into English making it easier to understand the native Kentuckians. E.g. "backer" = tobacco; dreckly = after a while; maters = tomatoes. Contact Truman Fields at trujoy@windstream.net.

'Refocused', but at this time, no one is aware of how that would be addressed. There have been neighborhood meetings to discuss building plans and decisions are scheduled to be made in March. **To see the plans for the district, you can Google CMSD Transformation Plan (1/5/2010). The second bullet is a Power Point detailing the plan. We will certainly report any updates in next year's newsletter.

Andrew Jupina, '96, shows his JMH pride on his sleeve—oops, that's his leg! Now that's a memory that will live on forever!

He joined us at a Trustees meeting to promote his Sports Scholarship Network program (finding coach recommended junior athletes to track through graduation) and naturally wants to assist at the old alma mater!

Florida. She helped start the girls Cheerleaders and Drill Teams. She had coached several of the girls basketball teams to Regional Championships. In later years, she mentored the student council, initiated successful honor study halls, and established the Oasis. In 1942 and 1943, she served as 2nd Lt., WAAC & WAC.

Quentin Scott, 6/86

Quentin participated in the Pre-Engineering Society, the gym leaders and in several sports—lettering 3 times in track and field, lettering once in football, and cross country while at JMH. He attended Fisk University receiving his Bachelor's in Biology and Master's in Physiology. His PHD in Physiology with a Concentration in Neuroscience was received at Meharry Medical College in Tennessee. He served as a professor of anatomy and physiology at Jefferson State Community College in Alabama from 1999-2003. He is currently a scientist in the Regulatory Affairs group of the Life Sciences Operation Division at Science Applications International Corporation.

Lennie (Muttick) Sorenson 6/65

As a student, Lennie was involved in band, orchestra, and the debate team. She also was a cheerleader and member of NHS. After graduation, Lennie went to the University of Hawaii to study marine biology and also became a scuba instructor. She soon took to the skies and became a jet pilot. In February 1978, she was a Flight Engineer on a DC-10 for Continental. She has since captained on a DC-10, a Boeing 727, and she became the first woman Boeing 747 Captain for a major carrier. Lennie has even soloed the Pacific Ocean in a single engine Cessna, from California to Australia.

January Yearbooks Available on CD

If you graduated in a June Class, you probably don't have a January Yearbook. They were usually smaller than the June issue but they did have material that may have included you or your friends.

Currently we have January '54, '56, '61, '62 & '63 and we will send the ones you request if you make a donation to the Alumni Association. Just check the appropriate block on the form when sending your donation. Thanks again for your support!

If you don't receive your CD after 30 days, please send an email to [john@jmh alumni.com](mailto:john@jmh alumni.com). John Papay 6/63

FACTOID

Currently the newsletters are published only once a year. In the 70's and 80's, there may have been 2 or 3 a year. Since 1990, only 1 has been published each year.

Did you know...

...that the Alma Mater has a long and a short version?
...that JMH had a goat as it's mascot?
...that there is a capped gas well in the middle of the football field?
...that there was a JMH beanie cap?
...that the pool was closed for several years?

Please Help Us Update our Records!

We strive to keep our database up-to-date so that we can provide addresses to your reunion committees and keep the communication lines open with all alumni. If you have siblings, parents, friends or relatives who graduated from Marshall and they are not receiving the Alumni Newsletter, it is likely that we do not have their current address or they may not even be in our database. Please help us and spend a few moments to let us know where they are - if they've moved, changed marital status, or are possibly deceased (please include class year, date of death, and copy of obit if possible). One of the most difficult tasks for any reunion committee is trying to find missing classmates.

You can always email us at [info@jmh alumni.com](mailto:info@jmh alumni.com) or call us at (440) 356-0249. We want to hear from you!

Please remember to tell us if you move.
